

TROY HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 17, 1873.

THEO. D. FISHER, } Editors.
JOS. A. MUDD, }

The Mexico Leader gives an account of a $65,000 fire that occurred at that place on the 7th inst. Twelve houses in the heart of the city were burned.

The new California legislature stands Republican 44, Independent 38, and Democrats 40, which will probably secure a Republican senator from that state.

Patrick Cain a young bar-keeper of Montgomery City, was brutally murdered in that city on the 1st inst. Five hundred dollars reward is offered for the murderer.

Dr. Jas. Jordan, who poisoned Mr. Kirtly of Spencersburg some months since, and then ran off with his victim's wife, died in the Pike county jail on the 6th inst., of congestion of the bowels, so we are informed by the Post.

We ventured on a little jaunt into Iowa on the 8d inst. and returned to our labors on the 12th. The country on our route presented the appearance of having suffered as much from the drought as this county, and in Iowa only about a half crop of corn will be realized. We anticipated writing up an account of our trip, but the crowded state of our columns at this time will not admit of it.

Acting Sheriff Bennett of Callaway county has arrested and lodged in jail one of the indicted mob murderers of that county, and is diligently searching for the others; but it is thought they have left for parts unknown. It is said there are only eight of the mobbers. This law-abiding spirit of our Callaway neighbors is a sad disappointment to the Radical howlers who have been clamorous for troops to be quartered on the people there, as they have been in the South.

The Republican is still going for the "rural roosters" in its forced humorous style, but these serene birds roost high and pay no attention to the hissing of the old 1808 goose. Finding that it cannot alarm them, it calls upon one of its Radical allies, the Kansas City Journal, to rush in among them and disturb their equilibrium. Like the fabled goose that attempted to imitate the eagle, its flight was too lofty, and after the first surprise created by the unusual sight of a goose in mid-air, it dropped to earth and no more attention is paid to it.

Andy Johnson is talked of as a candidate for senatorial honors in the Tennessee campaign, and this fact is giving rise to another question—"whether or not he was appealed to, and if so, whether or not he failed to notice appeals made for the commutation of the death sentence of Mrs. Surratt." It is a remarkable fact that every one connected with the conviction of that unfortunate woman who has not either drowned himself or met a violent death, is attempting to wash his hands of the stain of blood; but her shadow will follow them, nevertheless, until ghosts are made of them.

Postmaster Filley of St. Louis, following the example set by his party men, levied a five per cent. blackmail on the employees in his office, "for party purposes," whereupon the Radical press goes for him in a lively style. That was a mean thing in Filley, we allow; but no worse in him than in Washington officials, who have been practicing such blackmailing for the past eight or ten years. It is a good sign, however, even at this late day, to see such acts condemned, and if an example is made of Filley, the verdict of the public will be, "served him right."

Massachusetts "Spooney" has gone up for the Republican nomination for governor, and notwithstanding his belligerent attitude prior to the convention, is whipt back into the harness, and will go to work for the nominee. The Missouri Republican thinks that if the Democrats had not met first and made a nomination, Butler would have bolted and run as an independent candidate, and then they could have voted for and helped to elect one of the Republican candidates; but as Massachusetts will get a Republican governor as it is, we don't see what room the Republican has for grumbling. Its policy wouldn't accomplish anything more.

Receipts and expenditures of the town of Troy, for the six months ending September 1, 1873.
